Objective: One of the best ways to learn spacing, timing, screening, and overall basketball movements is through the context of 3v3. Players are forced to cut, screen, pass, dribble and shoot. In a 5v5 setting, it is easy for players to hide or get neglected on the offensive and defensive end. In our 3v3 curriculum, players will learn the proper way to use/set a ball screen, pin down screen, fade screen, back door cut, dribble handoff, and a variety of other basketball motions. Players will receive in-game coaching and communication based on their performance.

Curricular Concepts:

- Maximized in-game reps, touches, possessions, dribbles, passes, shots
- Ball Screen Options and Usage
- Ball Screen Defensive Strategies
